

Where Innovation Is Nothing New

AMS Offers Small-Item Vending.

AMS offers small-item racks and helixes to accommodate items such as breath-mints in small plastic containers, as well as products such as chewing gum in today's rectangular packets. This smaller rack/helix combination can handle many other small items such as energy drinks, single batteries, or small battery packs. With smaller vending, products are made available to consumers in more convenient quantities. Consumers don't buy more than they need and Operators don't have to cut their profits by selling a greater volume.

In addition, these AMS small-item racks come in a variety of shapes and sizes to accommodate a greater variety of products. Operators are happy to learn that a single tray doesn't have to consist entirely of small items. Larger size helixes can be installed on the same tray that has the small products. That really gives Operators freedom to load only what will sell best. Contact your Regional Sales Manager for more information on this and other great options.
